

The Garland Area Parent Association for Gifted and Talented

GAPAGT is an independent, volunteer organization of parents, educators, and community partners supporting gifted and talented students in the Garland ISD, which includes Garland, Rowlett and Sachse.

The association offers parenting resources, advocacy information, and partnership opportunities to promote appropriate educational services for the unique social, emotional and intellectual needs of gifted and talented students.

Visit us on the web at www.GAPAGT.org for a list of resources and the most current schedule of events.

GAPAGT Goals

- Serve as a resource for parents to help gifted and talented (G/T) children achieve their utmost capabilities;
- Provide speaker programs and events to assist parents in raising their gifted and talented children;
- Support district and school board efforts to meet the needs of G/T students;
- Advocate for exemplary G/T education that challenges the growth of both gifted and talented students;
- Keep members up to date through our website, newsletters and e-mail;
- Develop a network of parent and community liaisons to offer enrichment opportunities and encourage participation in public education; and
- Network with campus groups, magnet schools, parent groups, the Texas Association for Gifted and Talented (TAGT) and the National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC) to promote G/T education.
